

Take-Home Naloxone (THN) Program Distribution Site Agreement

Please complete the checklist below to indicate your agreement Take-Home Naloxone Kit Distribution Requirements: Take home naloxone kits are available for distribution to members of the public who are at risk of opioid overdose/poisoning AND family or friends who may witness an overdose/poisoning. Proof of risk is not required to receive a kit. A maximum of 2 kits per person may be distributed to support peer-to-peer distribution and to reach people who may not attend distribution sites Kits must be provided at no cost to service recipients. Fee for service organizations are not eligible Take-home naloxone kits are not for distribution to businesses, health care providers, or other organizations for use in the workplace Distribution Site Reporting Requirements:
	 The number of kits distributed monthly, and the number of kits reported used will be reported to the province quarterly on the Take-Home Naloxone Kit Tracking Reporting Form [see Instructions] When take-home naloxone kits are reported used, service recipients will be asked if they are willing to provide anonymous information about the event, using the Overdose/Poisoning Response Form [see Instructions]. These forms should be submitted the province as soon as possible. New orders may not be filled if reporting requirements are not met Service Provision Requirements: Distribution sites will create a site-specific procedure for naloxone distribution and orient their service staff. Health care providers are not required at distribution sites.
	Distribution sites ensure their service providers have adequate knowledge to provide take-home naloxone kits and overdose/poisoning response training:
	All site coordinators and staff must review the Training Manual on Overdose /Poisoning
	Recognition and Response
	Training for service recipients should be brief and client-centred (average 10 min). Clients Attack discretization sites as a service service and a service service and a service service and a service service service.
	attending distribution sites may already know how to safely and appropriately administer naloxone, therefore a brief knowledge assessment may be all that is required. Training is not mandatory and can be refused by the individual. If training is provided it should include:
	Factors that can increase or decrease risk of overdose/poisoning Signs of a suspected opioid overdose/poisoning
	 How to respond to a suspected opioid overdose including:
	 how to respond to a suspected opioid overdose including. how to communicate with 911 and why it is important to call
	 how to draw up and administer naloxone recommendations for rescue breathing, chest compressions, and how to evaluate and support a person after naloxone was given Ordering Supplies: Site has secure temperature-controlled storage for naloxone kits. Site has a commercial address for delivery of kits. Residential addresses are not accepted.
	 Please ensure that requisitions for naloxone kits and training kits are created separately from vaccine requisitions. Sites will follow instructions on the Take Home Naloxone Kit Order Form for ordering, receiving and storage. Public health units may order directly through PHIMS (Public Health Information Management System).

All sites serving the public will be listed at https://www.gov.mb.ca/health/publichealth/naloxone.html
